Women's Luncheon

Women's Luncheon with Pam Benton

11:00am-1:00pm

Location: East Ballroom B

Early Bird Cost: $25

Regular Cost: $30

On-Site Cost: $35

Limit: 250

On Wednesday we invite you to come together, fellowship, and be fed at the Women's Luncheon where our theme is "Purified to Proclaim: Generation to Generation." The Birmingham Host Committee and the Committee on Discipleship Ministries have planned a delicious lunch and inspirational "Generation to Generation" stories from speaker Pam Benton. Pam's message will not only entertain you, but also encourage and equip you with some practical strategies for intentionally and relationally transferring the truth of the Gospel from one generation to the next.

Pam Benton, a native of Kosciusko, Mississippi, holds a BA from Belhaven College and an MA in Theological Studies from Covenant Theological Seminary. She is the wife of Wilson Benton, pastor for 21 years at Kirk of the Hills PCA, St. Louis, and now retired Senior Pastor of Christ Presbyterian Church in Nashville. Pam and Wilson have three children and 10 grandchildren. Pam served on the Women's Advisory Sub-committee for 6 years. She is a Bible teacher, retreat and conference speaker, homemaker, shopper, and "lunch-eater" who loves being with grandchildren, being a pastor's wife, hanging out with her children, lunching with friends, traveling and caring for Wilson. Her special passion is ministry to pastors' wives and women in ministry.

Option One: Birmingham Botanical Gardens

1:30-3:30pm

Early Bird Cost: $15

Regular Cost: $20

On-site Cost: $25

Limit: 35

Enjoy a relaxing guided tour through the Beautiful Birmingham Botanical Gardens. The Gardens is Alabama's largest living museum with more than 12,000 different plants in its living collections. It is always a beautiful day at the Birmingham Botanical Gardens. Be sure to visit Leaf and Petal plant and gift shop located near the front gate. Walking Tour. Light refreshments.

Option Two: Theatre Tour/Alabama Theatre and Lyric Theatre

1:30-3:30pm

Early Bird Cost: $20

Regular Cost: $25

On-site Cost: $30

Limit: 75

The Alabama Theatre

Built in 1927 by Paramount Studios as an Alabama showcase for Paramount films, the Alabama Theatre is home to The Wurlitzer Opus 1783 Pipe Organ—one of the fantastic highlights of this theatre tour. It is still used today, particularly during the month of December, as the crowds pour in for Christmas Carol sing-a-longs, prior to the traditional showing of the famous Christmas Movie: “It’s a Wonderful Life.” It’s the Alabama tradition!

The Lyric Theatre

Built in 1914 for B.F. Keith’s Vaudeville circuit, the Lyric is one of few theaters still existing today that was specifically designed to maximize the acoustics and close seating needed for vaudeville shows. Major stars such as the Marx Brothers, Mae West, Sophie Tucker, Will Rogers and Milton Berle played the Lyric. Berle said it was “as fine a theatre as any in New York.”

Some Walking and Standing. Light refreshments.

Thursday, June 23

Civil Rights Tour & Lunch on your own in Homewood

9:00am-2:00pm

Early Bird Cost: $15

Regular Price: $20

On-site Price: $25

Limit: 90

You will see the struggles and triumphs of the civil rights movement chronicled in a dramatic, multimedia museum. Despite the tragic nickname “Bombingham” that circulated worldwide, the quest for racial reconciliation continues to spread throughout Birmingham. Evangelical Presbytery includes three of the PCA’s predominantly African American congregations. To God be the Glory! Don’t miss this chance to be blessed and challenged! Walking and Standing. Lunch will be on your own in downtown Homewood.

WOMEN’S FELLOWSHIP: Cup of Cold Water

2:00-3:30pm

LOCATION: Forum Room C

No Limit

Please join us in the women’s hospitality suite to connect with fellow women of the PCA. Not only will you have a chance to relax and make new connections, but you may also win one of our fun raffle prizes!
